GRAND JURY FINDS FIVE TRUE BILLS

SEPTEMBER INQUISITORS COMPLETED WORK THIS MORNING.

CHAS POPA NOT INDICTED

Jury Held Tragic Mishap at Sandusky-Portland Cement Plant Was An "Accident."

The September Grand Jury, which completed its inquisitions yesterday afternoon, reported five true bills to Judge Farrand this morning, four of the indicted men being under bond or arrest. Four of the five who were indicted are:

Wm. Collins, alias James McCue, obtaining money under false pretenses.

Eugene Phillips, rape.

George Harvey, attempted rape.

Adolph Tomac, forgery.

No Bill Against Popa.

The grand jury failed to indict Charles Popa, who was held by a coroner's jury for alleged manslaughter in the death of Ironim Ignatz at the cement plant on July 9. Popa was at that time charged with having caused the man's death by inflating him with air from an air compressor. One of the state's most important witnesses has left the country since that time, and in view of the evidence before them, the grand jurors held that the affair was an "accident" and unanimously voted that no indictment should be returned.

Other Cases Familiar.

The four indictments given out by States Attorney Edwards, as mentioned above, are for alleged crimes which are all familiar to readers of the Telegraph, in which accounts of the affairs were published at the time of their occurrence.

Collins, alias McCue, is charged with having collected commissions on a bogus order for a monument, from Charles Sworn of this city. He is now at liberty on bail.

Phillips, alias Aurora youth, it will be remembered, is alleged to have criminally assaulted a girl near Ashton during the summer, while Harvey is charged with an attempt to commit rape. Tomac was arrested a short time ago for the alleged forgery of Mrs. A. E. Phillips' name to a check on the Dixon National Bank.

Docket Read

Following the report of the grand jury, Judge Farrand commenced the calling of the docket and the making up of a trial list; and the result of the calling indicates that there will be many contested trials this term, the number of contested divorce cases being exceptionally large.

With his customary insistence that the lawyers try cases they have placed on the trial list, Judge Farrand succeeded in getting nine cases set for trial next week, which is the first week the petit jury reports. The cases set for next week are:

Monday—Banker vs. Haenitsch, appeal.

Monday—Wilkie vs. Jewell, appeal.

Tuesday—Stevens vs. Dasher, trespass.

Wednesday—Briggs vs. Groth, assumption.

Wednesday—Bryan vs. National Life Insurance Co., assumption.

Thursday—Western Sand & Gravel Co. vs. Northern Illinois Electric Railway Co., trespass.

Thursday—Drew vs. Drew, assumption.

Friday—Grand Detour Plow Co. vs. E. E. Vincent, trespass.

Friday—Keenan vs. City of Dixon.

Divorce Granted.

After the setting of the trial list Judge Farrand heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Lillian M. Haspel vs. John A. Haspel and granted the first decree of the term. The charge was drunkenness and the imprisonment in a state penal institution of the defendant. Mrs. Haspel was granted the custody of the one child, aged four.

To Recall Docket.

His Honor also announced that he would recall the docket at 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning, at which time he wishes all attorneys who have cases on trial to be prepared to set the same.

CASE IS AGAIN CONTINUED

Heavy Court Business at Home Was Cause of Stephenson County Officials' Return.

Freeport, Sept. 17.—States Attorney Albert H. Manus and Sheriff R. J. Stewart have returned to Freeport and they did not bring W. P. Eigenmann with them. They went to Des Moines Sunday to lay the matter of Eigenmann's extradition to Illinois before Governor Clark. Eigenmann is wanted here for securing money fraudulently.

The Stephenson county officers met the Iowa governor Monday and lawyers representing Eigenmann were present. Before the matter had been taken far States Attorney Manus learned of the contemplated action of Eigenmann's counsel. This was, that as soon as the Iowa governor had honored the requisition of Gov. Dunne, which in the opinion of the local officers he was ready to do, attorneys for Eigenmann were prepared to secure a writ of habeas corpus for their client, thus putting an end temporarily to the efforts of the officers who sought to transfer to Illinois.

Hearing Postponed.

States Attorney Manus and Sheriff Stewart, seeing the direction matters were trending, secured a postponement of the governor's action, and at some future date, probably next week, they will again go to Des Moines. The date for the hearing will be arranged later. Gov. Clark has a number of important matters which he will dispose of before the date set for the hearing is set and States Attorney Manus was also required to return to Freeport to attend to court matters, so the officers returned and, in the meantime, will make all due preparations for action to counterplay the habeas corpus writ, should bone be issued. The date for the next appearance of the Freeport officials before Gov. Clark will be announced at a future date.

Exhibit and Program Best in History—Fair Above Standard in Every Particular.

This change in arrangements was made because of the delay caused by rain. The races, which were to have been held today, were called off because of a wet track, and will be held tomorrow. Thursday's races will be held Friday, and Friday's races will take place on Saturday.

All exhibitions, etc., will be on the grounds Saturday and it will be a regular fair day. The bands will play and the free attractions will be staged as usual on Saturday, the same as on a regular fair day.

The crowds today were fine, considering the bad weather and condition of the roads, and fair weather the rest of the week will assure the greatest fair in its history for the Lee County Fair association.

The exhibits now on the grounds, the program arranged and the list of horses to be raced are without question superior in every way to any previous fair in this county and all that is needed for a record breaking fair is good weather.

German Insurance Figures

The German insurance department's report has just been issued. Most interesting figures are given with regard to the invalidity branch, showing that till the end of last year over $665,000,000 had been paid in benefits, and in the year 1911 over $50,000,000. The income from contributions in 1912 was over $65,000,000. Funds under the care of the insurance department now amount to nearly $475,000,000. The number of persons in sanatoria and other establishments supported by insurance funds has risen from 3,927 to 4,431. Till the end of 1912 nearly $105,000,000 had been spent on workmen's dwellings and their improvements, on the improvement of land, on woods and forests, on cattle and other objects for the improvement of the condition of the insured. That is to say nearly $130,000,000 for general philanthropic purposes.

Attraction of Opposites

All this leaning, swaying and inclining, this slender, lovely light characteristic of the modern woman of fashion as so opposed to the brisk, frank mental attitude of the twentieth century feminine ideal that one is astonished at the vogue the new styles have attained from the practical woman, comments a writer. It is due entirely to the attraction of opposites; the charm of the varied adornment for the mind fatigued with an excess of hard work. Just as the most virile man prefers the soft, clinging girl, so the masculinized woman of the day inclines with all her soul toward the frillery and stunsity of the mediaeval costume.

STOP CATARRH!

UNLESS PROPERLY TREATED WITH HYOMEL THIS DISEASE MAY BECOME SERIOUS.

If you have catarrh, usually indicated by sniffing, stopped up head, dropping in throat, watery eyes and morning choking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal condition for the growth of disease germs.

Do not allow the dangerous germs which may be breathed into the nose throat and lungs, to begin the destruction of your health.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by breathing Hyomel—all druggists sell it. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not upset the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomel inhaler, directly following and surely destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled—the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs are quickly healed and vitalized.

The unusual way in which Hyomel is sold by Rowland Bros. dispels all doubts as to its curative properties. Money refunded to anyone whom Hyomel fails to benefit. A complete outfit, including inhaler and bottle of liquid, costs but $1.00.

WILSON'S REGIME BLAMED FOR WAR

Huerta Says in Message "Strained Relations," Encourage the Rebels.

PLANS TO BAR U. S. WARSHIPS

Provisional President of Mexico Against Allowing Them Much More Time in Republic's Waters—Talks on Election.

City of Mexico, Sept. 17.—Provisional President Huerta delivered his semi-annual message at the opening of the second session of the twenty-seventh Mexican congress. In it he promised to spare no efforts to bring about the unrestricted election of president of the Mexican republic next month, declaring that it would constitute the greatest triumph of his career to turn over the office to his successor with the country at peace, as he hoped to do.

Politically, the great event was the re-opening of congress and the reading of the president's message. But without doubt General Huerta was moved less by that than by the spectacle of thousands of students, citizens and soldiers doing him honor as he stood on the balcony of the national palace reviewing the great parade, the feature in which public interest centered.

President Is Cheered

The president's greatest triumph appeared to be at his reception at the joint session of the deputies and senators when he entered to read his message. He was greeted with vivas both by the crowd surrounding the chamber and that which filled the hall.

In his annual message he promised to spare no efforts to bring about the unrestricted election of president and vice-president of the Mexican republic next month, declaring that it would constitute the greatest triumph of his career to turn over the office to his successor with the country at peace, as he hoped to do.

May Out U. S. Ships

The provisional president drew a distinction between the attitude of the government of the United States and that of the people of that nation, saying "the tenseness of our diplomatic relations with the government of the United States of America, although luckily not with that people," had put Mexico into a state of apprehension.

The period of six months allowed American warships to remain in Mexican waters by special permission of Congress will expire next month. In the opinion of the president a renewal of such permission should not be granted.

The message was disappointing to those who had expected that President Huerta would deal at some length with recent diplomatic exchanges. This subject, however, he said, "being so delicate and the permanent commission of congress being already informed," he passed with a bare mention.

Will Respect Election

In his message President Huerta said in part:

"The Mexican government regards the pacification of the country as an urgent necessity in order to restore the public services to their normal state, to re-establish the political, social and economic equilibrium and to make possible a program of reforms which will satisfy the national aspiration."

"I will spare no effort and no sacrifice to obtain the coveted peace and to guarantee fully in the coming elections the free casting of the ballot."

"You may be sure it will constitute the greatest possible triumph for the interim government to surrender of office to its successor if the latter, as is to be expected, enters upon its functions with public peace and order an accomplished fact."

At the close of the reading of the presidential message the session of congress was adjourned.

COUNTERFEITERS DEN RAIDED

U. S. Agents Take Bogus Coins From Italian Grocery in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—A little grocery at 1332 Larrabee street was raided as the headquarters of a band of counterfeiters who are believed to have passed hundreds of dollars of spurious coins and bills in Chicago during the last two months. The raid was made by United States secret service men, headed by Capt. T. L. Porter. Counterfeit money and the materials for making it were found behind pictures, in a stove, and under a bed. Mrs. Magdalena Garlasio was placed under arrest. She protested her innocence. Captain Porter believes it an agency of one of the most troublesome gangs of counterfeiters in the country.

The germs must be washed out, and soatives have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. Her Idea of a Luxurious Menu. A Kansas paper says that a woman who recently made a visit to Kansas City was interviewed on her return by the negro woman who helps her do her work. "I s'pose you had fine things to eat at de big hotel?" "Yes." "What all did yo' have?" "Sea food was de best." The colored woman looked disappointed, and then said: "Why, I s'posed yo'd have canned corn and rich things of dat sort."

Great Soldiers Without Sons. It is a rather curious fact that the three most distinguished English soldiers of modern times should have had no sons to succeed to their titles. Lord Wolseley's viscountcy descends to his only daughter, Lord Roberts' only son was killed in the South African war, and Lord Kitchener has so far resisted matrimony. Lord Nelson also left no son, the title going to a brother.

More Important. Two village worthies were discussing a mooted point in grammar as to whether a hen "sits" or "sets" when she takes to her nest. "Seems to me it's a heap more important," interrupted a bystanding farmer, "whether she 'lays' or 'lies' when she cackles."

OTIS GETS BOMB;

JAP SPOILS PLOT

Servant Questions Package in Mail and Saves Los Angeles
Editor.

'NAMAMARA MEK' BLAMED

Times' Mexican Policy, However, Police Chief Thinks Is Responsible
—Second Attempt to Be Made
on Editor's Life.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—The life of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis was threatened for the second time when he received an infernal machine through the mails. General Otis is publisher of the Los Angeles Times which was blown up October 1, 1910, by the McNamara brothers.

That he escaped injury probably was due to the watchful eye of his Japanese servant, who received from the postman an infernal machine mailed in this city and called his employer's attention to it.

The first infernal machine directed at the life of General Otis was found at his residence a few hours after his newspaper plant had been destroyed through the efforts of the McNamara conspirators.

Blames Old Conspirators.
The latest attempt on his life was attributed by the general to agencies friendly to those whose conspiracy eventuated in the destruction of his newspaper plant and the killing of twenty-one men three years ago. But the police and postal authorities believe something might be developed from the theory that the Mexican question had a part in it, pointing to an insurrection demonstration against a ranch company in which General Otis is heavily interested.

In lower California two years ago Industrial Workers of the World joined the "direct action" element of Mexicans in an effort to establish a Socialist commonwealth in a district where General Otis owns much property.

Denied Displacing Mexicans.
A few weeks ago there was an outbreak caused according to report by the employment of Chinese in the places of Mexican laborers in lower California, but General Otis asserted at the time that none were employed by him.

Capt. E. B. Foltz, a powder expert in the police department, took the machine to a sparsely inhabited section of the city, near the Los Angeles river, and there exploded the bomb which tore a great hole in the ground. The wrappings were given over to the post office inspectors, who began an investigation.

Suspects Huerta Enemy.
Chief of Police Sebastian inclined to the theory that the bomb had been sent by some person violently opposed to General Otis' newspaper policy with regard to the Huerta administration in Mexico. "It is possible," he said, "that some of the disgruntled Mexicans sought to kill the newspaper man whom they believed to be supporting Huerta."

General Otis, who is a close friend of former President Porfirio Diaz of Mexico, is largely interested in the California and Mexico Ranch and Cattle company, which owns great tracts in lower California and Sonora.

At St. Agreave, in the department of Arche, and other places houses were struck by lightning, with some loss of life.

THAW TO HIGH COURT

U. S. JUDGE SUSPENDS WRIT
PENDING GOVERNOR'S DECISION.

If Extradition Is Ordered Fugitive Will Seek Liberty Through the Supreme Court.

Littleton, N. H., Sept. 17.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw laid the foundations for plans to carry his case to the Supreme court of the United States.

When the governor of New Hampshire passes on the issue of the extradition of Thaw to New York at a hearing in Concord next Tuesday the findings, if adverse to Thaw, will be reviewed by the United States district court, and if a decision against him is given there appeals will be taken until the case reaches the highest court.

This was the announcement made by the Thaw lawyers after a hearing on a federal writ of habeas corpus invoking the fourteenth amendment in the Constitution in Thaw's behalf had been suspended until counsel saw fit to begin arguments after the extradition issue had been decided by the governor.

Edgar Aldrich, United States judge for the district of New Hampshire, decided that Thaw had the right, in effect, to hold his habeas corpus writ in abeyance. He explained that this was the petitioner's privilege in that should he be ordered extradited, "it would still be open to federal authority to afford such protection as the Constitution and the laws of the United States require."

In an open discussion with Mr. Jerome, after announcing suspension of the hearing, Judge Aldrich said a search of the statutes had failed to reveal to him any law under which a man in Thaw's position, a lunatic charged with no crime, could be extradited.

Thaw remained last night at a hotel in the joint custody of the United States marshal and Sheriff Drew of Coos county. According to an understanding reached he will be taken to Concord today to await the hearing before the governor.

"Thaw is tied up now with a federal writ," said William T. Jerome, who is fighting to return him to the asylum, "and there is no getting around it. But the questions to be decided by the governor are simple and we hope for victory."

ADVICE TO THE POULTRYMEN
Agricultural Department Issues Comprehensive Statement on Difficulties and Remedies.
The two farmers' bulletins relating to the poultry industry recently issued by the United States department of agriculture entitled "Hints to Poultry Raisers" and "Important Diseases," present to poultrymen a very concise, and, at the same time, comprehensive statement as to the difficulties encountered and the best methods of overcoming them.
The selection of a breed suited to the requirements of the owner, the artificial and natural incubation and brooding, the construction of houses and fixtures, methods of feeding, egg production and marketing are all covered in short, terse, convincing statements in the first mentioned bulletin.
The second supplements this information and the other advice as to the prevention of lice and mites and the treatment of common diseases, with a full and detailed description of the important diseases affecting fowls and the remedies which have been found effective.
Contagious diseases and the larger parasites are the most important obstacles which the poultryman has to overcome to keep his birds in a healthy condition. Preventive measures are the best, and also the cheapest, because, no matter how large the first cost, the great loss inflicted by an epidemic in which a number of birds may die, is saved, and also the indirect but even greater loss, which the weakened condition and loss of product cause, is eliminated.
There are, of course, cases in which medicines may be advantageously given or applied to sick fowls, but generally speaking, it is better to kill all sick birds, and thus avoid the spread of disease to many other birds in the flock. Then, a sick bird is an indication that it is more susceptible to disease than the other birds of the flock, which, to be strong and healthy, must be relieved of the menace of delicate and susceptible members.
Even with flocks practically free from disease germs and parasites, it requires the utmost watchfulness and care to maintain them in that condition. There are a number of reasons given for this, and mature and experience-bought advice is given as to the preparation and maintenance of poultry houses and yards free from the germs and parasites which so often turn a prosperous business into another of the many failures at "Poultry raising for a profit."

ALFALFA SHOULD BE GROWN ON EVERY FARM
1. It is a profitable crop.
2. Increases farm values.
3. Excels every other crop:
In yield per acre,
In feeding value,
As a drouth resister,
As a soil enricher.
4. No harder to grow than clover.
5. Make a beginning — start now
Grow Some Alfalfa
6. Motto—
ALFALFA ON EVERY FARM

Gambling Between Acts.
It would be difficult to imagine anything more incongruous than the production of M. Maeterlinck's great sacred drama of Mary Magdalen at Nice. It is a remarkable play, full of grand conception and real religious spirit. The Saviour is never seen in this passion play, but his presence is keenly felt. Mme. Maeterlinck, the wife of the poet, played the part of Mary Magdalen with wonderful sympathy and conviction. But the incongruity of it all lay in the fact that between the acts the audience lost 5-franc pieces at miniature roulette of the casino in the theater and that after the play M. Maeterlinck went off to referee a prize fight between a black man and a white man.

Colors of Grapes.
The dark-red color of certain grapes is due to a compound of tannin which all varieties of the vine contain. The color seems to depend on the combined action of the air, light and heat. The change in color is produced naturally in the vine by means of a specific ferment which carries the oxygen of the air to the grape. These ferments are often the agents of coloring in vegetable substances, as they are often seen in apples and in potatoes which have been cut open and thus exposed to contact with the air. The grapes that are white on maturity owe the absence of coloring to the absence of this ferment.—Harper's Weekly.

Society Caution.
The strange medley of which New York society is now composed led Frederick Townsend Martin, the admitted leader of New York society, to say at a luncheon: "Society, for all its diversities and contradictions, is uniform in one thing—and that one thing is a lack of culture. A society woman from the middle west, as her limousine glided down Fifth avenue, said to her daughter: 'My dear, at the dinner dance last night you talked entirely too much about Ibsen and Bernard Shaw and Tolstoi.' 'Dear me! Why?' the daughter asked. 'Strangers,' the mother explained, 'will be apt to think you were once employed in a book shop.'"

DAUGHTER BORN
A daughter was born Saturday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John Coakley, Chicago street.

COVER FOR POULTRY TROUGH
Old Peach Basket May Be Arranged by Cutting Out Hoops—Fowls Cannot Get Into Water.
Take a peach basket. Cut out the hoops except at top and bottom, sharpen the ends and place over the vessel containing water for the fowls. The birds cannot get into the water.
and it may be kept clean. Always use a vessel that can be taken out and cleaned every time before refilling.
FARMER SHOULD GRADE EGGS
Show Up Better Than Those Piled In Promiscuously and Also Command Better Prices.
Even buyers at the little country store will appreciate your efforts if you will sort your eggs according to size and color. Graded eggs show up a great deal better than those that are piled in promiscuously, and should—and will—command a better price if the dealer's attention is called to the fact, and he is assured that your eggs will be furnished that way all the time.
There are few, even of country stores, who would not be able to command a higher price for uniform, clean, fresh eggs, attractively packed, and one who produces that kind the year round can secure an advance in the market price. Large shippers will jump at the chance to secure eggs of this class, and are always ready to pay a higher price.
One firm made the statement recently that strictly first-class eggs were worth 8 cents a dozen more to their trade than eggs that they could not guarantee. It is the cheapest possible way to increase the poultry income. Try it.
Cleanliness in Nest.
Clean nests are very essential in producing clean eggs. Change the nest material occasionally, and as a precaution against insects burn the discarded material that is taken from the nests. Too much care cannot be given to cleanliness in the poultry yard.
Material for Egg Shells.
Hens demand some mineral matter to form the shell of their eggs. Do not forget the oyster shell and the hard, sharp grit. These will furnish material for the formation of the egg's shell and at the same time will keep the fowls in a healthy condition.

BELIEVE SCHMIDT MASTER CRIMINAL
New York Police Abandon Theory Priest Is Merely Insane Slayer.
DR. MURET IS HIS BROTHER?
Dentist Caught in Counterfeiting Place Believed to Be Relative—Muderer Thought to Be Feigning Insanity.
New York, Sept. 17.—Discovery of a counterfeiter's den which Hans Schmidt, priest and confessed slayer of Anna Ammiller, admitted was fitted up by him to make spurious money, led the detectives, Coroner Feinberg, and other visitors to his cell in the Tombs to express the opinion that Schmidt is sane, and that further investigation will develop that counterfeiting was only one of his "side lines."
They declared it as their belief that Schmidt is feigning insanity after carefully thought out plans of a master criminal mind.
To Rev. Father Evers, chaplain of the Tombs prison, to his attorney and to other callers, Schmidt admitted his connection with the flat in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, where detectives found bundles of imitation $10 gold certificates.
Muret Under Minor Charge.
Dr. Ernest Arthur Muret, the dentist arrested after the raid upon the counterfeiters' flat, was held in $5,000 bail on the charge of having in his possession a revolver in violation of a state law. Through his knowledge of the law Muret forestalled the plans of the federal secret service agents waiting to arrest him on a warrant charging counterfeiting. By waiving preliminary examination Muret, for the time being at least, escaped the more serious charge.
Bertha Zech, the servant girl employed by Doctor Muret and taken to police headquarters with him, was released, the detectives telling the court they had no evidence upon which she could be held.
Believes Two Are Brothers.
Inspector Faurot, head of the detective bureau, reiterated his belief that Muret and Schmidt are relatives, if not brothers. Doctor Muret told the inspector the resemblance was merely a coincidence.
William Flynn, chief of the secret service, announced that he had temporarily taken charge of the government's end of the case and would work with the New York police in tracing the operations of Schmidt as a counterfeiter and also the connection Muret might have had with the fake money plant. Chief Flynn is working on clues furnished by the passing of much counterfeit money in Massachusetts and Connecticut in April, 1912, and subsequently. Last month it was learned the form of the counterfeit had been slightly altered.
Triple Jekyll and Hyde.
Alphonse G. Koebler, Schmidt's attorney, visited the prisoner and after the conference declared that he was more than ever convinced of the insanity of his client.
Schmidt told his attorney he had posed as "Dr. Emil Molere, assistant surgeon in the Municipal Women's hospital, Paris, France," because he believed the world is overpopulated.
"So I decided," Schmidt told Mr. Koebler, "that so far as it was possible I would alleviate those conditions simply by preventing the birth of children." His assertion seemed rather to please the prisoner.
Sought to Aid Poor.
To Father Evers, Schmidt is quoted as saying that "God gave me the plates," and in reply to a question by the chaplain as to why he had become a counterfeiter, the priest said:
"There are so many poor people in the world. There are so many people who are sick and who are in dire need that I was going to help them—was going to better their condition. Half of the money I was going to devote to bettering the condition of the people of the United States, the other half was to be devoted to bettering the conditions of the poor of Germany."
These explanations of his acts, the detectives contend, are merely in line with his prearranged plans to appear insane while at the same time telling his attorney that he is sane.
WORLD'S BIGGEST MAN DIES
Michigan Farmer Was Seven Feet Eight Inches in Height.
Calumet, Mich., Sept. 17.—Louis Molanem, thirty years old, nicknamed "Big Louis" and believed to be the biggest man in this world, died in a hospital at Hancock, Mich., after an illness of only a few days. He was seven feet eight inches tall and at one time traveled with a circus. He later engaged in farming.
Johnson Steals 100 Bases.
Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—Jimmy Johnston, center fielder for the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast league, who was drafted by the Chicago Cubs, brought his season's record for stolen bases up to 100 in the seventh inning of the game between San Francisco and Los Angeles.
Chimney Collapses, Kills Many.
Workington, England, Sept. 17.—Several iron workers were killed and a dozen were injured in the collapse of a 200 foot chimney here.

AMONG THE SQUAB RAISERS
Many Little Practical Hints That Will Be Found of Especial Interest to Pigeon Lovers.
(By L. M. BENNINGTON.)
The Runt is the largest of the pigeon family, but they are slow breeders.
Never feed new grain; it is apt to cause bowel trouble.
Rye is a grain that should never be fed as it is very laxative and liable to cause severe intestinal irritation and death.
Hempseed should never be fed liberally, as it is very heating and fattening.
An overcrowded loft is both unprofitable and a danger.
When the young birds are about two weeks old the wing and tail feathers generally start growing. The small feathers follow these.
The old birds quit feeding their young as soon as they hatch out a new pair of squabs.
It is a mistake to build the house directly on the ground. Such lofts are generally damp and beside, are difficult to keep rat-proof.
There should be no cross pieces in the middle of the fly, as birds are often injured by flying against them in a sudden fright.
The small, round louse on the body and head is the most troublesome.
Before placing new stock in the loft it should be quarantined for a week or so.
Being very fattening, millet seed must be carefully fed.
Be sure to sift the cracked corn before feeding.
Pigeons are great water drinkers, especially while caring for the young.
It costs about six cents to raise a squab to five weeks of age.
Do not stock the loft with "cheap" birds. In buying, the price should be governed by quality.
Large squabs are produced by large sized breeders.
Success follows experience.
A mating should never be broken as long as satisfactory work is being done.
ARRANGE ROOSTS AND NESTS
Inclined Board Should Be Placed for Heavy Fowls to Walk Up and Down On—Easy to Clean.
A good arrangement for heavy fowls is a set of nest boxes with roosts on top and an inclined board for the hens to walk up and down on. The nests are made large, about 16 inches square and from 16 to 20 inches high. The entrance to the nests is from the back, and there is a runway at the back, so the hens may enter any nest. There is also an entrance from the stairway in front, as shown in the illustration, says the Independent Farmer. The whole thing is made so it may be taken apart easily for cleaning.
TO EXTERMINATE ROOST MITE
Little Parasites Are Common and Troublesome—Poultry House Should Be Painted Often.
Roost mites are very common and troublesome. When they become numerous enough they not only infest the nests, but other parts of the building, especially cracks and crevices, as well as the roosts. They are much like tiny spiders and are often called spider lice by poultrymen, says a Minnesota bulletin.
Mites are easily exterminated by applying kerosene to all infested parts of the building. They become numerous as soon as warm weather comes. As prevention is better than cure, it pays to paint your roosts once every four or six weeks in winter time and once every two weeks during the warm weather. You will probably never see a mite in a house so treated.
FEED DURING MOULTING TIME
Practice of Starving the Hens to Make Them Lose Feathers Is Condemned by Expert.
(By J. G. HALPIN, Wisconsin College of Agriculture.)
Hens should be fed liberally during the molting season, and the practice of partially starving the hens to make them lose as far as possible all their feathers at one time, thus straining the vitality of the fowls to provide entire new growths of feathers so quickly should be condemned.
The method may be good when followed by an expert, but ordinarily it injures the flock. As a rule, a reasonably long molting period, during which time the birds are well cared for, produces the best results. Sunflower seed, oil meal and other oily feeds fed during the molting season aid in the growth of feathers.
Banish Parasites.
Again we say there's nothing like a smoking out with sulphur to banish lice and mites from the hen house. It also purifies the house by killing disease germs.
Side-Track Roosters.
This is the slack season for roosters.

A Love Story.
Prof. Henri Bergson, at a dinner in New York, talked of love with that gay and sparkling philosophy which has made him famous in Europe. "Love—in the sense of passion," he said, "love does not live long. There's a little tale about love which has a deal of truth in it. Love, so the fable runs, bent over a beautiful maiden, when Cynicism sneered and said: 'Oh, yes, her eyes are stars and her mouth is a rose, but twenty years hence she will be fat and round-backed, with a double chin, just like her mother. You, though—haha, ha!—You, though, will be blind, eh?' 'No,' Love answered calmly. 'I simply shan't be there to see.'"

Going Down.
John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told at Louis Tiffany's Egyptian fete in New York a story that conveys a lesson. The story was elicited by an account of the daily life of the modern young man who dissipates. "But where do all these things lead?" Mr. Rockefeller said. "I know a sagacious man of affairs whose daughter came to him one night and said: 'Father, dear, would you object to my marrying a fast young man?' 'Not if he's going in the right direction,' was the father's wise reply."

Growth of Ostrich Breeding.
Fifty years ago there were only 82 tame ostriches known in all South Africa. And in that year only 16 pounds of feathers were exported, and they came for the most part from wild birds brought down by the hunters. Last year there were about 800,000 domesticated ostriches in South Africa, nearly 900,000 pounds of feathers were exported at a value of more than a million and a quarter dollars.

Ambidextrous Consolation.
Nicholas Longworth at a dinner in Cincinnati said of a defeated candidate for congress: "Well, after all, it's a great consolation for a man's conscience to tell him, when he is left, that he is right."—Boston Herald.

FAMILY THEATRE
For the last half of the week commencing Thursday, Sept. 18 the program at the Family will include the Woodward White Models. This is a feature attraction and will be seen for the first time in this part of the country during the brief engagement at the Family. The act is playing in one of the biggest vaudeville theatres in Chicago this week and is creating a vast amount of comment for its artistic nature and the perfection with which it is manipulated. The number consists of one lady, two gentlemen, four white dogs and one beautiful white horse. Various pictures are presented in which all take part, showing various scenes connected with a hunt. It is a most interesting feature and a big success is predicted for it during its presentation in Dixon.
As an extra attraction for the last half, Harris & Randall in their comedy skit entitled "Fifty Miles From Nowhere," provide screams of laughter during the short time allotted to them.
The entire show is one of exceptional strength and will prove a delightful event for Dixon theatre goers.

PRaises Camp Hope
Chicago Tribune: The Rev. J. P. Brushingham, pastor of the South Park M. E. church, spoke about the honor prisoners who are building road at Dixon, Ill., in a sermon last night. Dr. Brushingham declared the plan would be a success and commended the officials who inaugurated it.
"Camp Hope," he said, "where 45 prisoners, taken from the grim walls of Joliet, in order that they may work in the sunshine and open air as their lessons."
"What a contrast between the grewsome description over the Tombs in New York. 'Who crosses here leaves his head behind,' and Camp Hope at Dixon, where 'mercy tempers justice,' and the white flag of promise is unfurled over the unfettered derelict instead of the black flag of despair beneath a starless sky."

AISE GEESE ON FARM

acant Places Unfit for Cultivation Quite Suitable.

Geese Occupy Same Place Among Poultry That Sheep Do Among
Live Stock and if Given Care
Are Profitable in Proportion.

Contrary to common belief, geese are just as rapidly away from rears or ponds as near them. A nerous supply of fresh drinking water is all that is required. There are any places on a farm worthless for livestock that could be used with excellent results for geese raising.

The cost of food for geese is proportionately small in comparison with other birds bred for market. A goose range will eat grass, insects and her animal and vegetable matter
and in the fields.

Geese occupy the same place among poultry that sheep do among live stock and if given proper care are as profitable in proportion, says a writer in the Altmore American. It is just as necessary to pluck the feathers from a goose as to shear the wool from the sheep, and the product has a great demand. The feathers may be picked up times during the summer, and each goose of the larger breeds will shed about two pounds of fine, soft,
downy feathers.

For the best results I feed my geese
an egg-producing food, consisting of measures of wheat bran, two

An Excellent Trio.

measures of shorts, one measure of wheat scrap, one measure of oil meal
and one-half measure of sharp sand.
Give them a small quantity of this food twice daily and allow them free range. I do not allow my geese to scratch their own eggs, because they are so clumsy that they break them, besides I wish to keep them laying all the time.

Though more geese were raised last year than ever before, yet the markets
are not oversupplied, and the demand is growing all the time. Geese mature very rapidly and attain an enormous size.

The young are hardy and easy to raise. After they are five days old they should be left to find their own feed on the range and require no care except shelter during severe rain-storms and at night until feathered out. They live to be very old. Some breeders report them living and doing well at twenty years of age. Another important fact about them is that they are not susceptible to disease, this in contrast to most poultry.

HOW YOUNG CHICKS ARE FED

Wisconsin Expert Gives Method Employed at the University in Car-ring for Little Fellows.

"For the first 10 to 14 days, we feed the chicks at the university
farm a little commercial chick feed,
which is thrown into a fairly deep litter of hay chaff three or four times a day," writes Prof. J. G. Halpin of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin in reply to a question regarding the feeding of young chicks.

"In the middle of the forenoon and the afternoon," says Professor Halpin,
"we feed a little mash made up of equal parts of coarse ground corn, wheat bran, wheat middlings, and rolled oats. Once a day we mix a raw egg in with this mash, one egg for about each 60 chicks. As they get older, we gradually increase the amount of raw egg, adding enough water or, better still, milk to keep the mash from being sticky and soggy. As fast as they learn to eat it, we mix more and more wheat and cracked corn into the chick feed, so that by the time they are three weeks old they are eating cracked corn and wheat entirely. From the start we give access to dry mash
made up at first like the wet mash, except that the rolled oats is omitted
after the second week.

"Fine sand on the brooder floor,
covered with short cut Alfalfa hay,
is ideal. Ground bone in little hoppers, so the chicks can help themselves, is also good. A few drops of potassium permanganate stock solution, just enough to turn the water
red, or just enough Zenoleum to turn the water whitish, may be put into the drinking water."

Watch the Chicks.

Keep close watch of the little chicks
during this hot weather and see that they are not troubled with head lice, especially those that run with the hen.

SECRETARY HOUSTON WILL HELP WOMEN

HEAD OF AGRICULTURE DEPART-MENT ASKS INFORMATION CONCERN-ING HOUSEHOLD DUTIES

Washington, D. C. Sept. 17.—David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture, within the next few days,
will address a letter to the women
members of 50,000 farm households
throughout the United States, requesting them to give him information as to how the department of agriculture can best serve the needs of the farm women.

These letters will be addressed "to housewives in the homes of the official crop correspondents," and will be sent to the full list of crop correspondents for transmission to the women members of their households.

With each letter will be supplied
a return envelope in which the women can forward their suggestions.

This inquiry results from the receipt of a letter addressed to the secretary in which the writer said:

"The farm woman has been the most neglected factor in the rural problem and she has been especially neglected by the national department of agriculture."

This letter was written, not by a woman, but by a broad-minded man,
so thoroughly in touch with the agricultural and domestic needs of the country that his opinions have great weight. Following the receipt of this letter, the secretary determined that the best way for the department to learn how to give these women the fullest possible aid and service which their important place in agriculture warrants, was to write to the women themselves and ask them to make their own suggestions.

In the letter these women are invited to give individual answers to the letter or to discuss the matter in their church societies or women's organizations and submit answers
representing the combined opinions of the women of their entire community. The answers are requested not later than November 15th, and this date is set because it will give the women time after harvest to consider the matter and discuss it with their women neighbors.

This letter will go to about twenty leading farms in each of the twenty eight hundred counties of the United States. Their answers, it is expected, will represent the views and opinions of upwards of 500,000 farm women. These answers will be carefully considered by the specialists of the department having to do with that branch of agricultural activity.

SAVE THE SEED CORN.

Attention of farmers is called to the need of care in saving seed corn this year. The prospects are there will be a scarcity of good seed corn
this year. Prepare early for selection from the good fields. Those who have old, well preserved seed may find that there is a good demand for what they have. The seed should be kept in a dry, warm place; this is true
for any year, but it is especially essential this year on account of the poor quality of the corn in many localities.

Prof. and Mrs. Rice of Geneseo,
Ill., enroute to Los Angeles, Cal., will be in Dixon shortly for a few days visit before going west.

business.

"GUNMEN" FIGHT DUEL

Three Wounded in Battle on Broadway in N. Y.

Gangsters Fire on Rivals in Auto—
Follows Election
Feud.

New York, Sept. 17.—Theater
crowds on Broadway witnessed a duel
by rival "gunmen" in two autos here and following the battle three of them were hit by bullets. The police believe the fight resulted from the activity in the primary election of rival bands of gunmen who renewed an old feud.

The attacking party of seven, after firing on three men in the other car half a block away and being shot at in return, attempted to speed away, but was overtaken by a traffic policeman in a taxicab. Three men jumped out of the car and escaped. Four, including the chauffeur, were arrested on charges of attempting felonious assault and violating the concealed weapons law.

It became known that the same two automobiles met on West Sixty-ninth street and their occupants started to "shoot up" each other. Three men are said to have been wounded, escaping
before the arrival of the police.

Charges and countercharges that "gunmen" had been brought into the district to intimidate voters came from the camps of the rivals for the leadership. For the first time in history a Tammany leader applied for the assistance of the sheriff in protecting voters. Hagen made the appeal and Sheriff Harburger supplied 50 deputies. In the voting he won his contest with Form, about four to one.

Reports from the districts showed that organization candidates on all tickets had been "nominated." John Purroy Mitchell being chosen to head
the Republican and Progressive city tickets and Edward E. McCall to head the Democratic ticket as majority candidates.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 17.—At the Democratic state convention Blair Lee was endorsed as the Democratic candidate at the election in November for United States senator to succeed William P. Jackson, Republican. The resolutions commend the administration of President Wilson.

CHURCH EXPELS REV. HANMER

Immorality.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Rev. W. G. Han-mer, for twelve years general conference evangelist for the Free Methodist church, and for the past year pastor of the St. Charles, Ill., Free Methodist church, was found guilty of misconduct and was expelled from the church and conference. The wife of a brother minister was responsible for the downfall of the once noted evangelist, so officials of the church say.

ago secured a divorce, named Hanmer.
Hanmer was ill while at Alameda, Cal., five years ago. Mrs. Nuel, the wife of the minister, nursed him through his illness. Rumor of their relations during this time caused complaints
to be made to the church and the following trial.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back
Again by The Use of Cardul.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardul as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help.

I had almost lost my reason, but,
thanks to Cardul, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardul acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building
them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardul.

The beneficial effects of this time
tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways.

HELL IN BUSINESS.

(Sharon, Pa., Letter to the New York Herald.)

The Damm family, of world fame,
bids fair to lose its renown by discovery of the Hell family in the city of Farrell, built by the U. S. Steel corporation.

Members of the Hell family are not averse to using their name in a business way. The head of the family, Conrad Hell, an ice cream manufacturer, has signs reading, "Go to Hell for ice cream," scattered about the city. Another sign reads, "Ice cream from Hell is guaranteed pure and cooling." Still another bears the inscription, "Have you been to Hell?
It's the coolest place in Farrell."

When a stranger enters Main St.
he is startled by a big billboard reading, "Hell is here; don't miss the place." A block further down the street the sign is encountered, "You will find everybody there on a hot day; Hell is always open." The big sign which, however, attracts the most attention is in front of Hell's place of business. It represents a young couple eating ice cream and the young woman saying to her escort, "Hell for mine; always."

Cocaine in Paris.
Pierre de Trevieres, French writer, with mocking irony tells of the "charming progress" that cocaine was making in "the most select circles of Paris." He says: "For some time the Parisiennes have given themselves up to the enchanting cocaine, and then, that you might join them in its delights, they offered the divine powder with the gesture of a devotee, in a delicate tabatiere. But the newspapers have opened a campaign against it to deprive mortals of its delights, and to close against them forever this forbidden paradise. Morphine, opium, ether, were all replaced by cocaine, the sympathetic 'coco.' There will only remain to the beautiful ennuies, the vulgar cigarette, the vulgar tobacco." This attitude of the press, it is explained, has been brought about by some recent scandals and a fatal accident caused by the use of this drug.

Left Lamenting.
"Darling," cried the young man, as he sank to the maiden's feet, "I would do anything to prove my love for you!" "That's what every man says when he wants to win a girl," answered the young lady harshly. "Can't I move you?" panted the desperate Romeo. "Prove me! Put me to the test! Test me, I pray you!" "I wonder!" whispered the lady softly to herself, while a blush mantled her pale cheeks. Then suddenly bending over the almost swooning youth who crouched at her feet, she exclaimed: "I will put you to the test!" "Ah!" The youth sprang to his feet, exultant, triumphant, and cried aloud to the maiden at his side: "Your test? Your test?" "This to marry some other girl," murmured the sweet young thing, as she glided backward through the velvet curtains into the bedroom.—Answers.

Famine in Africa.

Famine is being experienced at Inhamhane, Africa, says the Christian Herald. A territory 350 miles by 250 miles, with a population of at least two millions, is involved. Parents are driving their children from their homes because they do not wish to see them die, and also because they hope that in some way they may get food for one or two when it would be impossible to obtain food for more. The sufferers have sold all that they possess in order to have money to buy food, which can scarcely be had in any part of the district. Where peanuts can be bought the traders are charging $5 for five gallons of unshelled peanuts, and $8 for three and one-half bushels of corn, and ten times the usual price for rice.

Easily Contended.

Dr. John Van Doren Young, secretary of the County Medical society of New York, was talking, at a dinner, about the unhealthfulness of brooms and dusters, and especially of household pets. "They who keep dogs and cats in apartments," he said, "claiming that the charms of these animals overbalance their unhygienic qualities, remind me of a man whose residence had a gas plant to the north, a tannery to the east and a soap factory to the west. A friend commiserated with this man on his home's unpleasant situation, but he answered with a contented chuckle: 'Why, it's fine to live here! I don't need to go to the expense of a weather-cock to tell which way the wind's blowing.'"

WILSON HAS BIG PUZZLE

President Returns Home and Faces
Difficult Question.

Washington, Sept. 17.—President
Wilson returned from Cornish, N. H., on a train that was an hour late and was driven at once to the White House.

The president found the administration currency bill well on its way through the house and the tariff differences between the house and senate well on the way to settlement. Some of his advisers thought the Underwood-Simmons bill might come before him for signature next Monday.

The most pressing question in the Mexican situation was whether a congratulatory message should be dispatched to Mexico City on the occasion of the one hundred and third anniversary of Mexican independence,
and to whom it should be addressed.
Some officials were of the opinion that such a message would be, in a measure, a recognition of the Huerta government.

SLAY PRIEST QUELLING RIOT

Police Also Mortally Wound Politician Near Naples.

Naples, Sept. 17.—There was a serious riot at Casoria, six miles from this place, during which an octogenarian priest was killed and a prominent politician mortally wounded. The police had been called to suppress the disturbance, which was of a political nature and during which the politician had been wounded. The mob was too much for the police, and the latter were almost overpowered when they drew their revolvers and fired. The old priest, who was exhorting the rioters
to cease their fighting and disperse, was killed instantly and several other persons were wounded. The killing of the priest enraged the rioters, and soldiers had to be called to suppress the trouble.

"Hunger Strike" Won Out.

A peculiar strike has been settled in a New York home without the aid of an arbitrator. Mrs. Blank has two children, a boy of seven and a daughter two years his junior. The mother, a widow, is a wage earner and spends four hours every day away from her home, leaving the children in charge of a young woman who is a distant relative. One day the woman came home and found that the children's meal had not been touched, and the boy told her that he and his sister did not like "Louise" and would not eat.
"No, never, till mother came home."
Thinking that this was only a passing whim, the woman went to her work
the next day, admonishing the children to be "real good." On her return she found the children hungry with the prepared meal untouched. Fearful of evil consequences, the woman re-surrendered. Louise was sent to her home and the children have been "real good" ever since. Thinking of what the next demand may be, the mother wonders if she did right.

Called World's Oldest City.

Iconium, or Konia, as it is better known today, in Asia Minor, 300 miles east of Smyrna, held by some archaeologists to be the oldest city in the world, derived its name from the el-kones, or images of mud, which, according to the ancient legend of the place, were made by Prometheus and Athena at the command of Jupiter, who, after the great flood, caused the winds to blow upon the elkones, and they became living men and women.
Thus, according to this tradition,
Iconium was the first place settled after the flood.

Coming Event.

Fire Chief Kenon was talking about New York's incendiary fires, which number one in four throughout the year. "Perhaps," he said, "if it were against the law to insure a property
a penny above its value, then our incendiary fires would cease. As things are now every alarm makes me think of Hulbertson. 'Poor old Hulbertson!'
said Jackson; 'so you had another fire
last Wednesday night, eh?' 'No,' said Hulbertson, absently; 'next Sunday night.'"

Dancing as an Economy.

Oscar Hammerstein was talking theatrical gossip at an actresses' tea
in New York. Mr. Hammerstein smiled. "Isadora Duncan, the lovely barefoot dancer, has bought a chateau in France," said a pretty son-brette. "There, ladies," he said. "See what can be done by saving one's money instead of squandering it all
on silk stockings."

Story That Jones Tells.

The head of the house went to the city market to buy a fowl for Sunday dinner. He wasn't an expert on age or quality, but had his mind made up to buy a young goose. Finding a pair displayed by a farmer's wife he asked:
"How much for the goose, madam?"
"You mean how much for the pair,
sir?" said the woman. "No, I want only one," he said. "Can't sell one without the other," she said. "These ere geese has been together goin' on 13 year and I ain't a goin' to be so un-feelin' as to separate 'em now."
